

I believe the law should stay as is, since the law has in put into affect, My family and I can actually eat dinner without being interrupted by an annoyance of telemarketers trying to sell you something, so instead of wasting my time by just hanging up, its has been better for my family all together. This law should certainly stay in effect.